Chapter 27: Mineral fuels, mineral oils and products of their distillation; bituminous substances; mineral waxes
Note 1: Notwithstanding any of the line-by-line rules, the “chemical reaction” rule may be applied to any good classified in Chapter 27. The chemical reaction rule allows that a good, product of a chemical reaction shall be considered to be an originating good if the chemical reaction occurred in the territory of either or both Parties. A "chemical reaction" is a process (including a biochemical process) which results in a molecule with a new structure by breaking intramolecular bonds and by forming new intramolecular bonds, or by altering the spatial arrangement of atoms in a molecule. The following are not considered to be chemical reactions for the purposes of this definition: (a) dissolving in water or other solvents; (b) the eliminating of solvents including solvent water; or (c) the addition or elimination of water of crystallization.

Chapter 29: Organic chemicals
Note 1: Notwithstanding any of the line-by-line rules, the “chemical reaction” rule may be applied to any good classified in Chapter 29. The chemical reaction rule allows that a good, product of a chemical reaction shall be considered to be an originating good if the chemical reaction occurred in the territory of either or both Parties. A "chemical reaction" is a process (including a biochemical process) which results in a molecule with a new structure by breaking intramolecular bonds and by forming new intramolecular bonds, or by altering the spatial arrangement of atoms in a molecule. The following are not considered to be chemical reactions for the purposes of this definition: (a) dissolving in water or other solvents; (b) the eliminating of solvents including solvent water; or (c) the addition or elimination of water of crystallization.
The Chemical Reaction rule will not apply to the following subheadings: 2904.10; 2905.45; 2911.00; 2913.00; 2915.70; 2917.12; 2917.32; 2919.00; 2927.00; 2928.00; 2930.10; 2930.20; 2930.30; 2930.40; 2931.00; 2935.00; 2940.00; and 2942.00

Chapter 30: Pharmaceutical products
Note 1: Notwithstanding any of the line-by-line rules, the “chemical reaction” rule may be applied to any good classified in Chapter 30. The chemical reaction rule allows that a good, product of a chemical reaction shall be considered to be an originating good if the chemical reaction occurred in the territory of either or both Parties. A "chemical reaction" is a process (including a biochemical process) which results in a molecule with a new structure by breaking intramolecular bonds and by forming new intramolecular bonds, or by altering the spatial arrangement of atoms in a molecule. The following are not considered to be chemical reactions for the purposes of this definition: (a) dissolving in water or other solvents; (b) the eliminating of solvents including solvent water; or (c) the addition or elimination of water of crystallization.
The Chemical Reaction rule will not apply to the following subheading: 3002.30

The following are not considered to be chemical reactions for the purposes of this definition: (a) dissolving in water or other solvents; (b) the eliminating of solvents including solvent water; or (c) the addition or elimination of water of crystallization.

Chapter 40: Rubber and articles thereof
Note 1: Notwithstanding any of the line-by-line rules, the "chemical reaction" rule may be applied to any good classified in Chapter 40. The chemical reaction rule allows that a good, product of a chemical reaction shall be considered to be an originating good if the chemical reaction occurred in the territory of either or both Parties. A "chemical reaction" is a process (including a biochemical process) which results in a molecule with a new structure by breaking intramolecular bonds and by forming new intramolecular bonds, or by altering the spatial arrangement of atoms in a molecule. The following are not considered to be chemical reactions for the purposes of this definition: (a) dissolving in water or other solvents; (b) the eliminating of solvents including solvent water; or (c) the addition or elimination of water of crystallization.
